

Pathology of Sugar Industry in Iran and Its' relationship to Economic Key Sectors

Topic: Input-output analysis for policy making 6

Author: eiman cheratian

Co-Authors: Zahra Zakeri

The raw sugar industry is one of the most important sectors in Iran economy. Because this sector has noticeable affects on some economic key variables like Labor employment. But the current situation of this industry shows that it has faced to some serious problems which put many sugar companies in bankruptcy. Notice to statistics and some related studies have shown that government inadequate policies are the main reason of this situation. So this study is a thorough review of Sugar industry in Iran and analyzes the sugar company's problems and challenges. Then by using the Input output technique, we examine the relationship between sugar sector and other economic sectors. We hope this endeavor provide an overview of the key findings to solve the sugar industry challenges.

Keywords: Input output table, Sugar Industry, Iran economy.

JEL code: C67, L66